

In a project sponsored by Advanced Bio-Agro Tech Limited (ABTL), we are working on an important biochemical component in the poultry feed material. Various feeds are being analyzed for the quality and quantity of this component. The enzymes manufactured by ABTL are also being tested to improve nutritional content of the feed material.